Enjoying Dates, Bridge, Music,

How can one group of students meet the challenge of tomorrow's world? There's no formula, but it was done. By our activities, academic and extra-curricular, we prepared ourselves for either more school or a job. After all, this is what the world of the 60's needs—prepared citizens.

During the year we kept busy. Those little get-togethers with popcorn, pizza and Pepsi filled many weekend evenings. The class breaks with that "special" one . . . but even the community looked to Southeast.

We were needed.

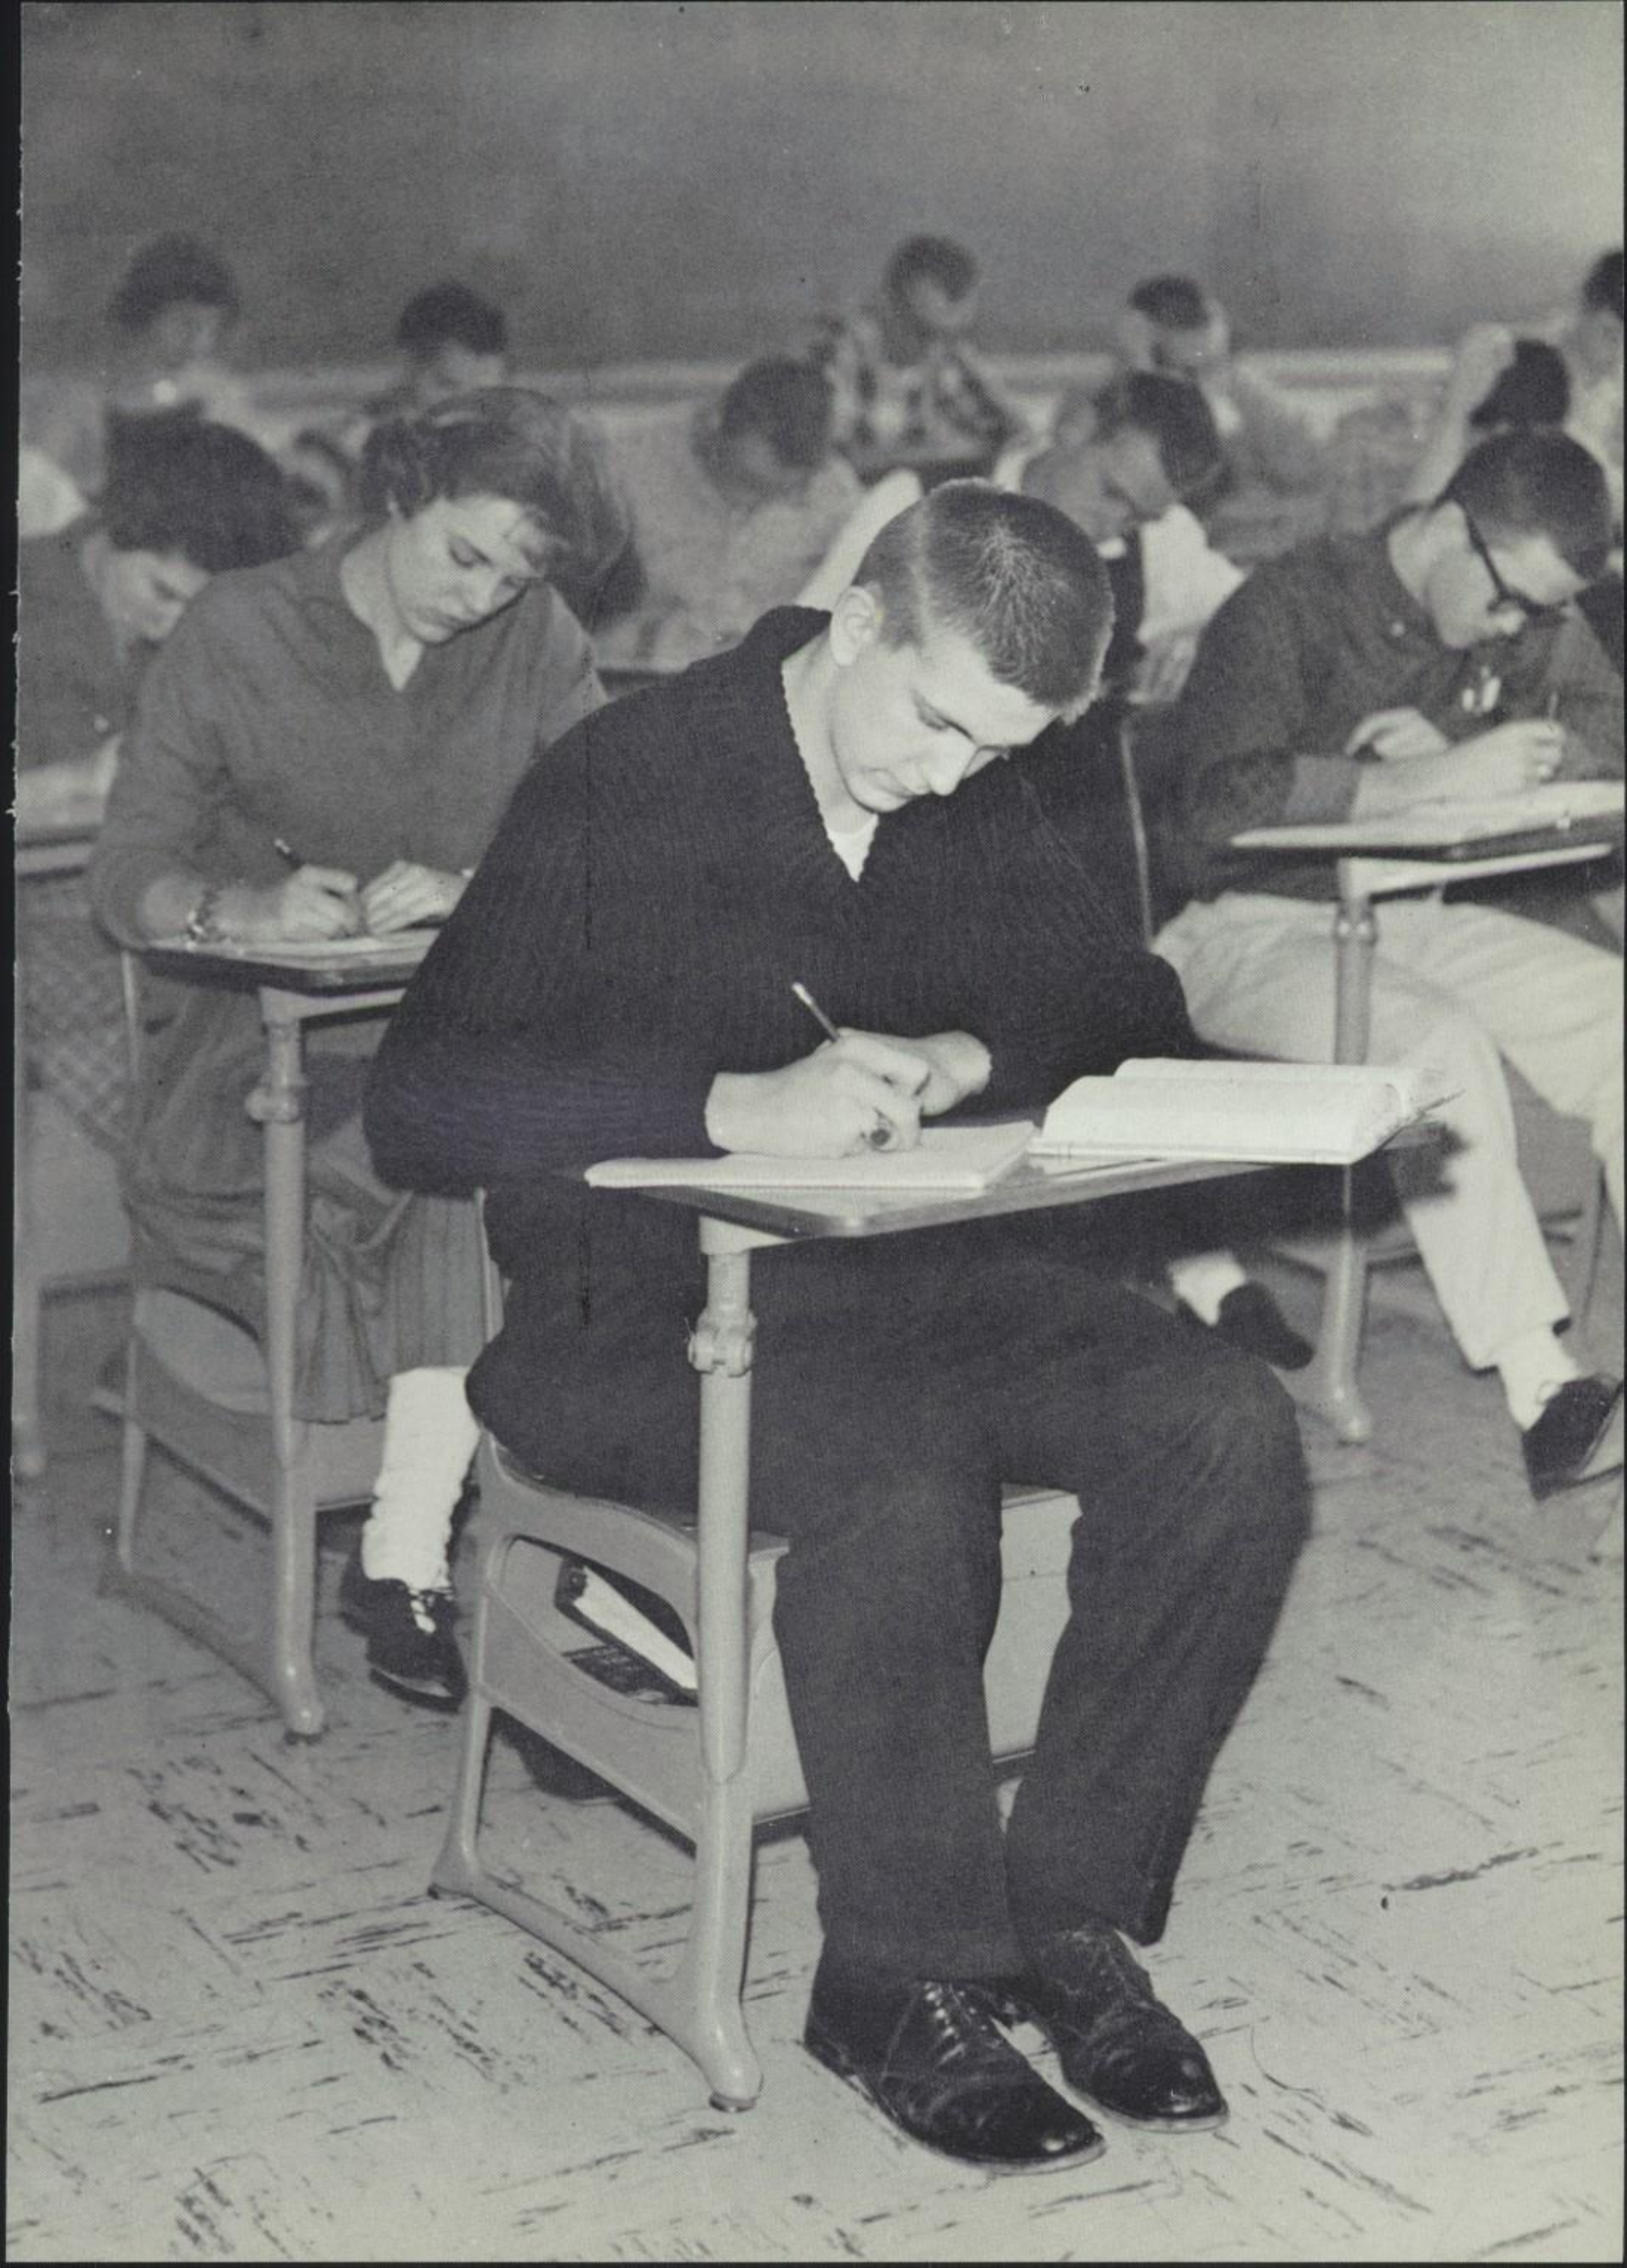
We Achieved High Scholarship.

Studying was never-ending as we strived for the Honor Roll. With the payola and TV quiz scandals we began to wonder if even our television courses were fixed.

Homecoming with the "Harvest Moon" Dance and the All-Sports Banquet left memories of their special thrills and surprises.

Parents' interest was shown by their willingness to chaperon activities and their attendance at PTSA and Open House.

We were supported.



Our Lives Revolved Around Home,

Regularly we attended church and also joined the choir and young people's groups.

Teachers enjoyed many of the same activities as we students. They found time to spend at home, bowl and just take it easy.

We always needed more money, especially we boys who had both a girl and a car. A part-time job was usually the answer. We helped at home, too, shoveling snow or cooking, and didn't really mind so much.

We worked hard.

While Clubs Broadened Our Minds.

Weeks of strenuous practice for us Thalians went into the productions of "Meet Me in St. Louis" and "The Curious Savage."

An evening after a show or just an afternoon of sledding was never complete until we visited King's. There we put aside our troubles concerning school while we enjoyed the food and the latest gossip.

Our lettermen endured sacrifices and rigorous training to give us their best.

We had spirit.

Sports Brought LSE Knighthood.

"These are the Knights and we couldn't be prouder!" And were we ever proud after we were runners-up at our first State Basketball Tournament and after we took our second State Swimming Championship.

Conversations such as "Who has whose 'S' Pin," and "What were the notes for history today?" were continuously transmitted by phone. Confusion was only added when the new telephone prefixes were begun.

When the Kingston Trio or other personalities came to town, we were there.

We had fun.

Prepared, We Turn to the Future.

It's here! The lounge! Realization of our dreams for a student lounge came true after much effort and co-operation.

Honors and trophies which debators, journalists, sportsmen and top students won during the year added prestige to our name.

Football games after which it took a week to defrost, pep rallies and bus trips—all played their parts in our fun.

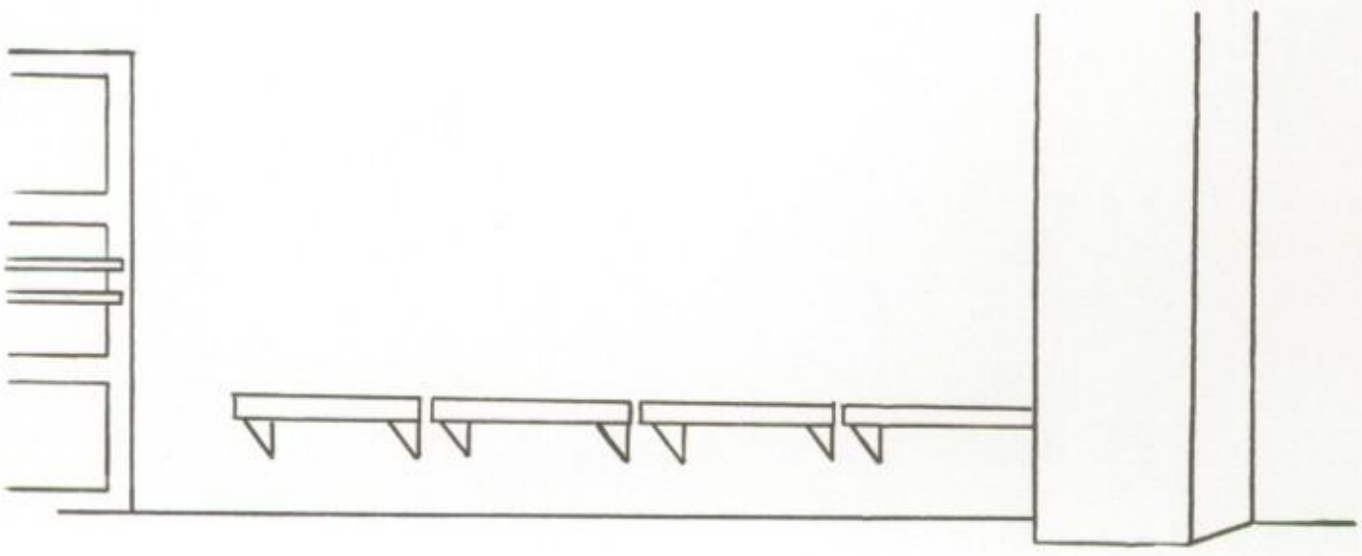
Our year was full and exciting. Maybe it didn't seem startlingly different to us at the time, but each new experience prepared us a little more for the future.

We met the challenge.

Through Their Personnel

Co-operation between 62 faculty members, headed by the new principal, Craig Whitney, and 1,393 students was the key to Southeast's advances. For the first time classes such as geometry and history were taught by television. Completed in October, the language lab was used by foreign language and speech classes.

As the year's activities mounted, the classes of '60, '61 and '62 realized that by taking advantage of the opportunities at Southeast they had developed well-rounded backgrounds for successful futures.



SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS ARE IN AND OUT OF THEIR OFFICES MANY TIMES EACH DAY—Dr. Steven Watkins

Both Administrations

With opportunities for Lincoln's young people in mind, the educational administrators attempt to meet the rising standards of modern education. Intense interest in political, social and economic world conditions cannot be overemphasized in 1960.

Problems concerning school policy, construction and administration confront the Board of Education regularly. Because of their sincere concern for the proper training of tomorrow's leaders, these men and women constitute the backbone of superior advancement in Lincoln's public schools.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS—R. H. Ammon, J. D. Danielson, R. C. Venner, Mrs. R. S. Hill, W. H. Parker and I. J. Devoe

Responsible for 1,523 students and 63 faculty members, Craig Whitney faced a tremendous challenge in his first year as principal of Lincoln Southeast. With lively interest in school activities and a concrete educational policy, Mr. Whitney fulfilled his position as administrator.

Competently assisting Mr. Whitney were Miss Hazel Scott, assistant principal, and Rex Mercer, director of activities. A smooth, efficient internal organization was the product of this trio's efforts.

SCHEDULE CARDS ARE MUCH EASIER TO FIND WITH THE OFFICE'S NEW FILING SYSTEM —Rex Mercer, Miss Hazel Scott

PANEL DISCUSSIONS ENCOURAGE INDEPENDENCE, IDEAS—Diann Deitemeyer, Brenda Harrison, Gail Newsham, Dave London

Surging ahead in modern schooling, Lincoln's educational system introduced instruction by television. To meet the needs of expanding enrollment, these television techniques provided a broader, deeper presentation in courses of physics, geometry, American history and senior composition.

Telecast daily from the University of Nebraska studio, the programs included not only lectures but also documentary films, guest speakers and dramatic readings.

Whether it be a theory to balance the national budget or a knowledge of Civil War military tactics, each student of history gained a greater understanding of yesterday's and today's world situations.

World history courses revealed the progress and heritage of civilization as a whole. Through American history the growth and development of the United States were presented. Students of modern problems and economics classes stimulated and enlarged their comprehension of today's globe. The ideals of tomorrow's leaders depend upon the preparation of today's students.

While a Well-Equipped Chem Lab

By combining two years of high school chemistry into one double-hour class, the science department offered an advancement in college preparation. College credit could be achieved by outstanding work in this class as well as in advanced algebra, trigonometry and analytic geometry. College texts, lab periods and long lectures made the ten-hour chemistry course seem much like a college chemistry classroom.

Although the theory of ionization may have puzzled some students, the five-hour chemistry class benefited many. Math courses from algebra to trigonometry developed reasoning and mental discipline.

Geometric designs and logical proofs were characteristic of geometry classes. Television instruction, which was a new concept this year, proved to be profitable.

Biology students, studying plant and animal life, dissected frogs and grasshoppers, viewed microorganisms through microscopes and made drawings of observations.

Galileo's and Newton's laws, equations of heat and density, sound and resonance laws and the metric system were some of the subjects studied in physics classes.

Installed this year was a modern foreign language laboratory which illustrated a tremendous step forward in the study of foreign tongues. The lab, equipped with 32 individual booths, proved very successful.

Through the use of long-play records, informative films plus the textbooks, an inspiring mood and appreciation of English and American literatures were created.

By laying the foundation with sophomore English courses and roofing the structure with television senior composition, the English curriculum was complete.

HIGHLIGHTING SENIOR HOME-ROOM WERE GUEST SPEAKERS— Donald Darnell, Rabbi Rosenblum

Guidance and counseling became parts of each soph's life when he enrolled in home-room, a two-hour credit course.

Required to enroll, sophomores benefited through an orientation and vocational study program. Meanwhile, juniors delved into emotions, intelligence and habits of humans. Attitudes of marriage and family living, the meaning of education and vocational planning confronted seniors.

Parent-student counseling sessions enabled the advisors to gain a better understanding of the student's objectives.

Emphasis upon fine arts stimulated interests in creative students in the music and art departments. Instrumental music classes ranged from beginning band to advanced orchestra with a marching band active during football season. Art appreciation, designs and crafts, commercial art and other courses encouraged development of artistic abilities.

Supervisors of the kitchen and custodial staffs were Mrs. Alice Tuckerman and Leonard Short, respectively. Preparing delicious meals for 1,300 ravishing appetites was the duty of the cooks, while the custodians worked laboriously to make LSE shine.

Accurate records, many telephone calls and numerous other duties kept the efficient office staff constantly busy.

Preserving the health of LSE students was the major goal of the nurse, Mrs. Marjorie Courtney. Periodic weight, dental and eye check-ups were only a few of her duties.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS REIGNED OVER MYTHICAL KINGDOM FOR FULL YEAR—Bill Wright, Kit Thompson, Gary Amerman and Bob Campbell

Seniors in the class of 1960 participated in numerous activities during their concluding year as Knights and Ladies of Southeast. Homecoming, bus trips, state tournaments, Nite of Knights, banquets, the Junior-Senior Prom, Senior Day and graduation highlighted this unforgettable period.

One special event to be remembered was the dedication and opening of the new Student Lounge in February. The students served as financiers of this long-awaited project. In addition, many welcome donations were made by school clubs and parents.

Three years of high school meant growing along with a modern school, establishing traditions and preparing for a permanent place in community life. In their sophomore year the seniors struggled to uphold the standards set by previous classes. As juniors, they settled down to studies and activities. Finally, as seniors, they had experienced a period of maturity and looked hopefully toward their future years.

Having Selected Colleges, Various Jobs,

To keep the seniors constantly busy involved various non-school doings such as sledding and ice skating parties, visits to out-state college campuses, pastimes of knitting and bridge, coed football games, exchanging of pictures and slumber parties.

It was a remarkable year, one that will not be forgotten. Another group of young men and women completed their secondary education at Lincoln Southeast High School.

Keeping an eye on the future, many seniors achieved high scholastic recognition this year. The results of the National Merit Scholarship exam taken last year revealed nine finalists at Southeast. They were Alan Cohen, Barbara Clark, Jack Griffin, Steve Halter, Michael Murray, John Perry, Dave Roberts, Ann Wahl and John Wick.

Nebraska Regents exams offered scholarships to many upper-third seniors who took the test. Southeast had 73 alternates in this group. Pictured on this page are the top 3% of the 1960 graduating class.

Several Outstanding Juniors

Representatives for Nebraska's Girls' and Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion and the Auxiliary, were chosen and will attend the activity at the University of Nebraska campus for one week in June. Southeast's three candidates were picked on a scholastic and leadership basis.

Delegates from all over the state will attend the clinic and participate in many interesting and worth-while activities.

"Next year is our big year in high school!"—many juniors realize as this year draws to a close. Along with club meetings, parties and sports, County Government Day and AFS offered these conscientious Junior Class members an opportunity to develop their varied interests and talents.

They have built themselves a fine reputation and are prepared to accept next year's responsibility as school leaders.

Understanding the fundamentals of government was the main purpose of the County Government Day held last December 2 at the Lancaster County Court House. William Miller was the sponsor for the fifteen Southeast junior representatives who were chosen from television history classes.

Selected as representatives this year were Nancy Chenoweth, Kay Cirksena, Nancy Eager, Lynn Ewing, Kathy Gittleson, Peter Hillman and Mary Ann Liesveld.

David Longinaker, Margaret Ludlam, Dennis McCulley, Jean Probasco, Scott Rodwell, Robert Sakai, Gene Uffleman and Mike Willits also attended Government Day.

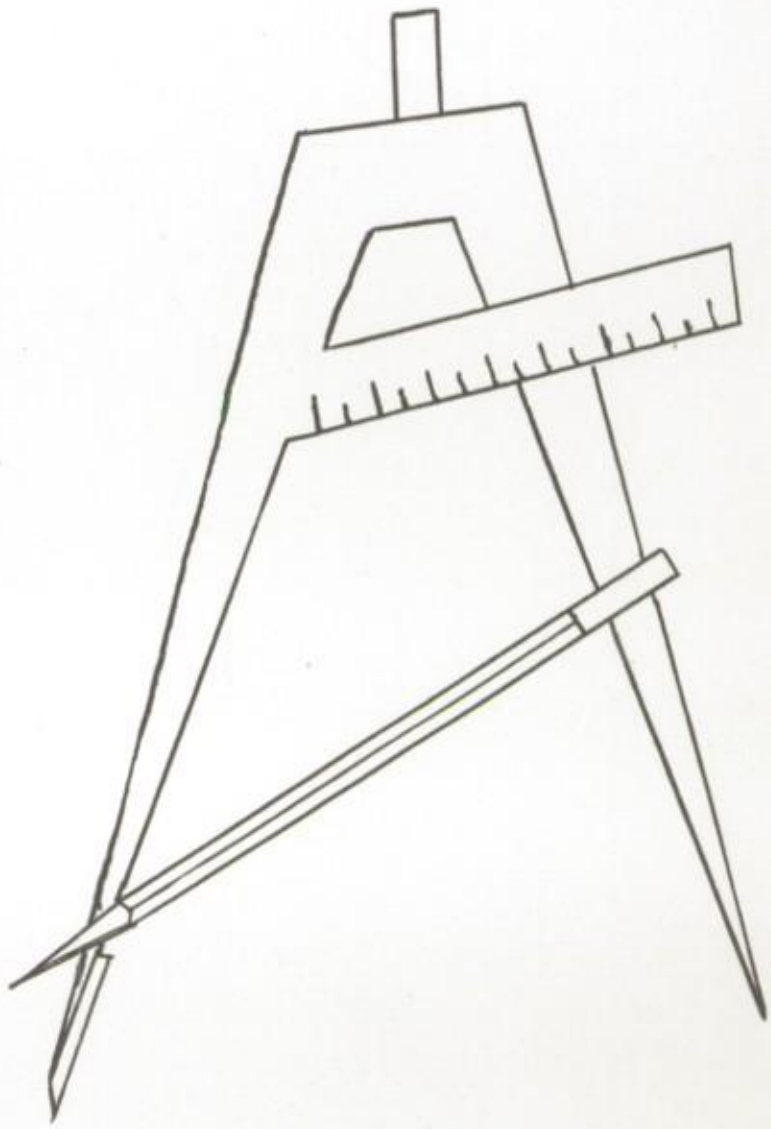
Despite Confusion On the First Day,



"At last we're part of Lincoln Southeast . . . I thought I'd feel older in high school . . . wasn't that a wonderful game . . . tonight I have tons of homework!"

These comments reflect only a few of the impressions high school has made upon the 1962 class. New teachers and unfamiliar courses required adjustments; thus, a year of experiences and new acquaintances have helped to mold sophomores' school life.

These Ambitious Sophs

Leading class activities were the sophomore officers: Larry Hatheway, president; Greg Hedburg, vice president; Marian Fisher, secretary and Ann Yost, treasurer.

Under the guidance of the sponsors Martin Buschkamp, chairman, Miss Grace Reiff, Miss Flora Bergt, Donald Wilcox and John Reta, the officers performed their duties. In cooperation with the upperclass officers, these students decided upon a standard graduation announcement.

Looking back through the year, the sophomores are confident that it has been a success. Establishing an excellent scholastic record, being active in extra-curricular clubs and giving time and effort to sports have proven their loyalty to Southeast.

With these memories of accomplishments, they anticipate the succeeding two years eagerly, knowing they have developed firm foundations for high school careers.

With Their Organizations

Individually many clubs added constructively to the progress of Southeast. The debaters, both the varsity and novice teams, compiled an unprecedented record. Organizations' combined efforts helped the financing of the new student lounge.

Activities of Thalians, Band and Glee Club gave the members experience while they produced entertaining plays and assemblies. By taking part in clubs the participants were learning to work together and to conduct business in a democratic way—qualities required in this modern society.

Council Realizes Ultimate Goal

Southeast students have dreamed of a student lounge for five years. This year's Student Council helped complete the plans that made this dream come true.

Donations from school clubs and a loan of $7500 from the Board of Education financed the construction of a lounge. The loan is to be paid back by 1963. After the black and gold furniture, candy machines and ping-pong tables were added, the lounge was officially opened on February 4.

Many other duties belonged to the Student Council as they worked selling concessions, counting ballots and passing club constitutions. In November members attended the Nebraska Association of Student Councils Convention in Grand Island.

Hallmark's "Slim Jims" have nothing on the 1960 SHIELD's sleek layouts. Through the skillful use of contemporary design this year's staff strove to meet the ever-increasing challenge of today's yearbooks.

While picture taking and caption writing occupied editors and assistants, the advertising staff established lasting contacts for Southeast with Lincoln businessmen.

Highlighting the year was the annual staff banquet, a pleasant reunion of CLARION and SHIELD staff members. Along with Kit Thompson, Dave Griffin and Bill Wright of the CLARION staff, Charlette Suder from the SHIELD staff won top honors in contests at the NHSPA Convention.

Good news coverage with eye-appealing style is no easy job as both semesters' staffs know. The bi-weekly CLARION maintained high standards and earned a First Class rating for the first semester.

Outstanding character, scholarship, leadership and service are the qualities for which a National Honor Society member is chosen. Accompanying this recognition, however, are many responsibilities.

In addition to promoting higher scholastic achievement, National Honor Society members sponsor junior and senior high honor convocations and NHS tappings.

"It's a small world" is an understatement where International Club is concerned. As the size of the world decreases, this active club through its affiliation with American Field Service increases student interest in foreign lands and customs.

Members enjoyed hearing exchange students relate their many experiences. They kept busy selling Halloween candy for AFS and sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins Dance and a varsity-faculty basketball game.

Modern homemakers won't have anything new on some of Southeast's feminine students. Future Homemakers of America, new addition to school's growing list of clubs, introduces the idea of the practical, yet attractive, style of homemaking.

Their first year's activities were highlighted by a club pizza party given before a basketball game. As a service project the girls collected money for Easter seals and made puzzles for the Orthopedic Hospital. They also served coffee to the teachers during the between-semesters break.

Keynote of the orchestra's performance this year was quality of technique.

In December the orchestra, under the direction of Paul Austin, played its first concert and followed it with another concert in March. April saw the orchestra play in the All-City Orchestra Festival and the Southeast Vesper Concert. Finishing the music year was the May 17 concert.

Ever hear the sound of music while studying in a classroom last fall? Needn't have become alarmed! It was just the marching band going through their routine procedure outdoors. Practice began three weeks before the first football game and continued throughout the entire season.

Besides playing at home games and an out-of-town game, the band kept itself busy by playing in concerts and by sponsoring the annual Nite of Knights.

New this year were the key awards and band letters presented at the annual May banquet to students obtaining a certain number of merits during the year.

"I hear singing but there's no one there." On the contrary, if it's top-quality singing the Southeast vocal groups are bound to be there. These various music groups, directed by Miss Evelyn Fosbury, performed at assemblies and city functions.

This year's baccalaureate took the choir to St. Paul's Methodist Church where they participated in the service. Newly-adopted fashion for the boys' octet was navy blue suit coats with SE emblems.

Unknown talents became "Stars of the Knights" as the 1960 Nite of Knights was produced. After surviving tryouts and hectic practices, the cast entertained the audience with acts ranging from Al Capone's time to the present beatnik era.

Varieties of dancing, beginning with the Charleston and progressing to a space-ship boogie, played a leading role in the production. Music played almost an equal part as two small band groups performed and the Senior Girls' Sextet sang.

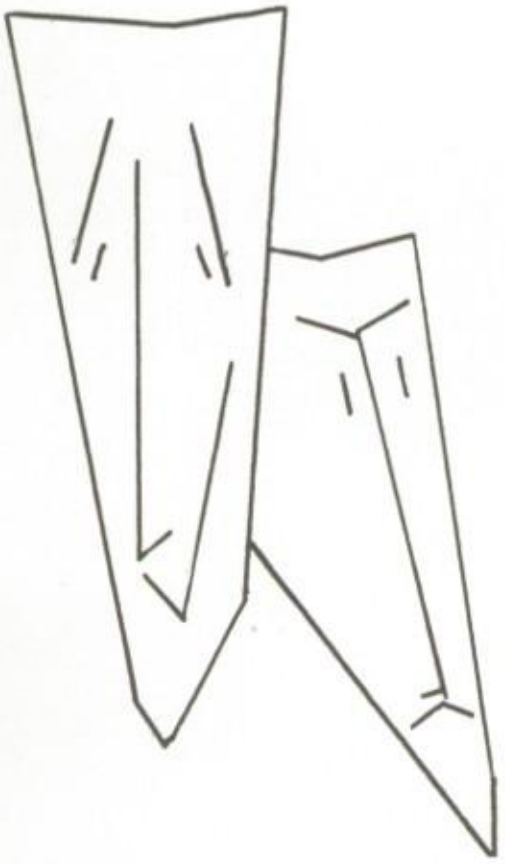
Two Well-Produced Plays Take Thalians



"I hate everything in the world . . ." This phrase became well known after the nights of practice spent on this year's second all-school play. Ranging from a home in St. Louis to an insane asylum, "Meet Me in St. Louis" and "The Curious Savage" became Southeast's outstanding plays under the direction of Mrs. Phyllis Swigart.

Audiences were amused by the antics of a St. Louis family avoiding a move to New York and touched by the simple sentiments expressed by the inmates of "The Cloisters." "The Curious Savage" with its humor, pathos and adventure provided good opportunities for sensitive acting.

Lighting, sound, scenery, costumes and publicity are but a few of the Thalians' numerous duties when all-school play time rolls around. Nor does the rest of the year find them lacking in activities.

Dramatic programs and a film concerning character portrayal entertained members at many of the meetings. A group of Thalians enjoyed a program at a meeting of Northeast's drama club in which students from both schools participated. The Thalians' acting awards of the year were presented at the annual spring banquet.

75 points . . . 150 . . . 250 . . . letter! With today's added emphasis on scholarship, Southeast has taken a lead by being one of the first schools in Nebraska to award school letters for non-athletic achievements. After meeting National Forensic League requirements. Southeast debaters can be awarded special debate letters.

NFL membership is gained by accumulating the necessary number of oratorical points through participating in speech tournaments and making other public appearances. Besides debate, individual speech activities varied from extemporaneous speaking to dramatic and humorous reading.

Climaxing the year's activities was the annual NFL and debate banquet for all members and their families. The year's honors were reviewed and new officers announced. The departing seniors' wills and prophecies highlighted the banquet.

Traveling everywhere from Neosho, Missouri, to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, LSE debaters have made a name for Southeast out of state as well as throughout Nebraska. Team members won honors at such places as Esterville and Sioux City, Iowa; Independence, Missouri; and Lawrence, Kansas.

Each debater has become better informed after doing research on this year's topic, Resolved: That the federal government should substantially increase its regulation of labor unions. Through experience they have learned to speak effectively and think logically. However, not all the work was done individually. Frequent trips to the library and occasional "quote parties" provided opportunities to combine efforts.

In spite of many early morning departures and late curfews, week-end trips were considered worth-while when the team returned with trophies in hand.

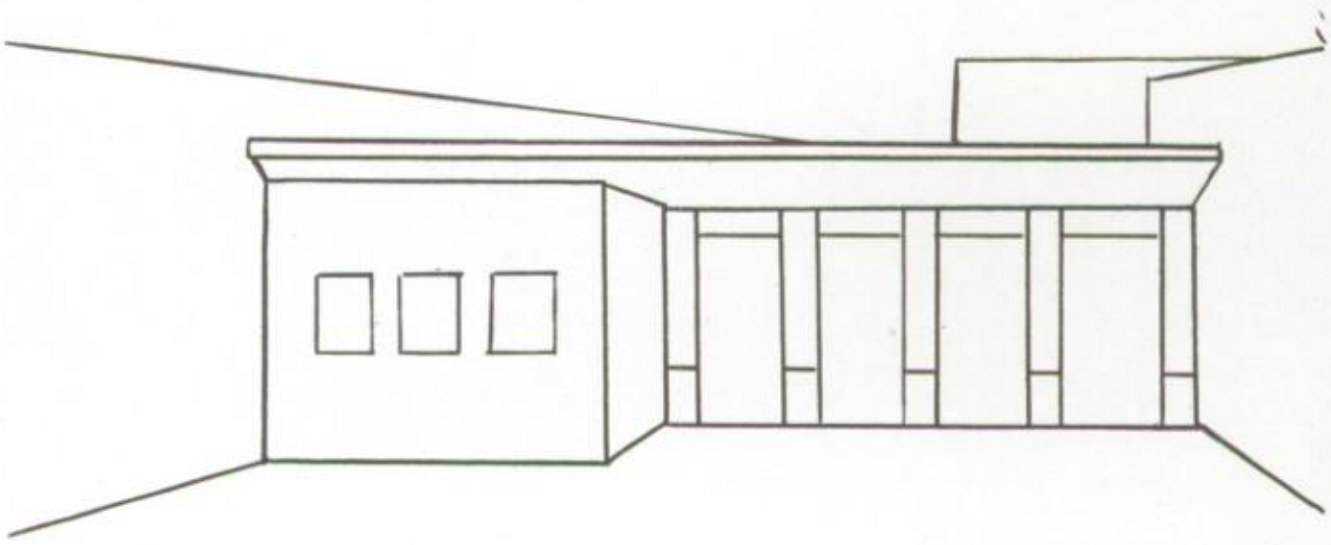
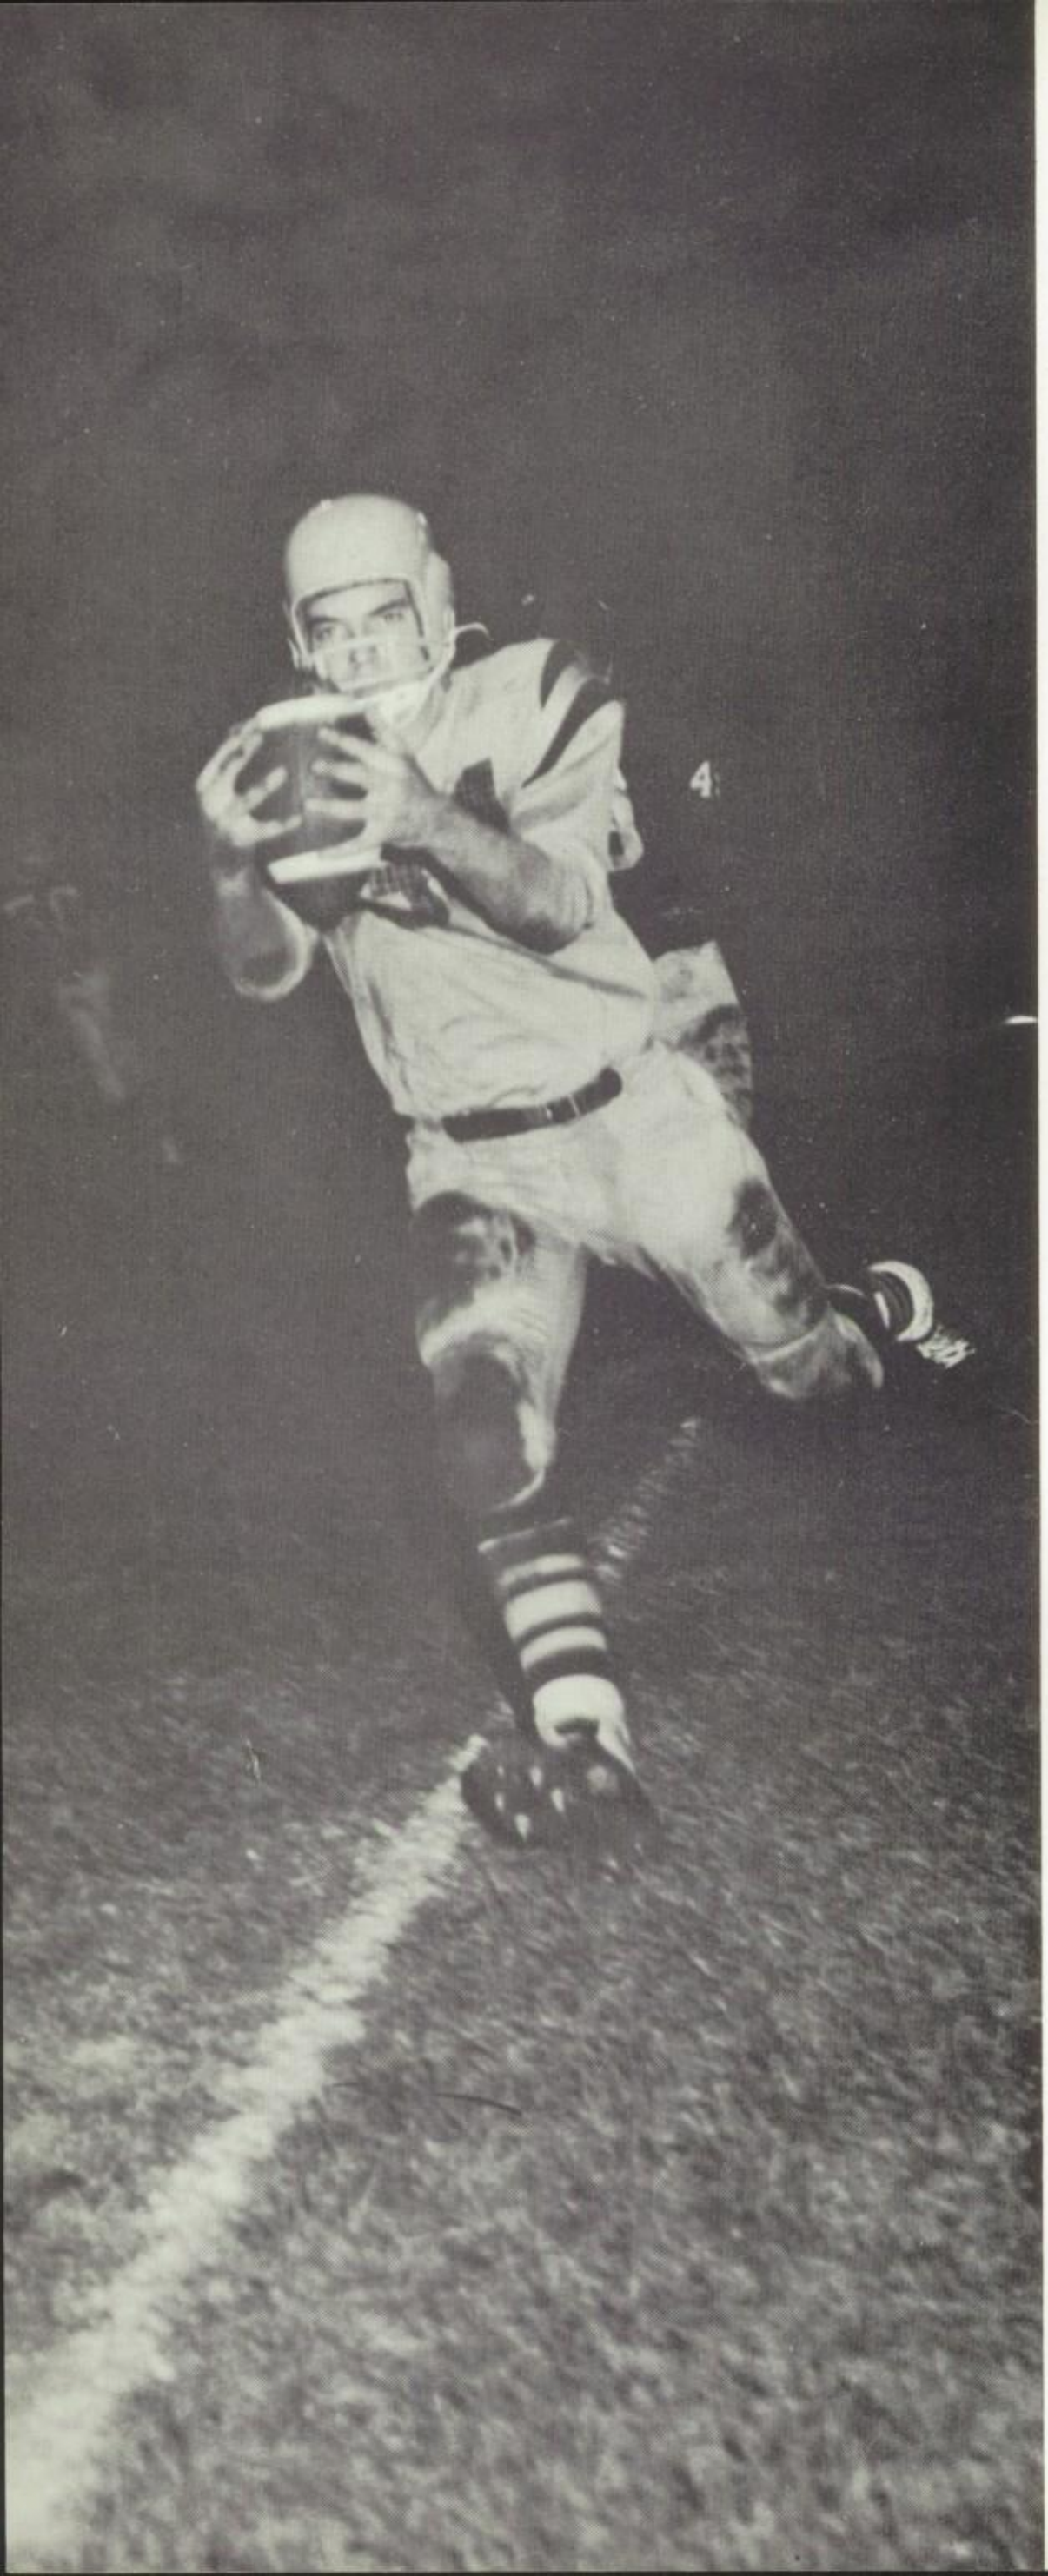
A dance in their honor added to their reign the following night. "S" Club elected Judy from senior Knightettes; Gary was elected by the pep club from senior varsity football players.

By Their Athletics

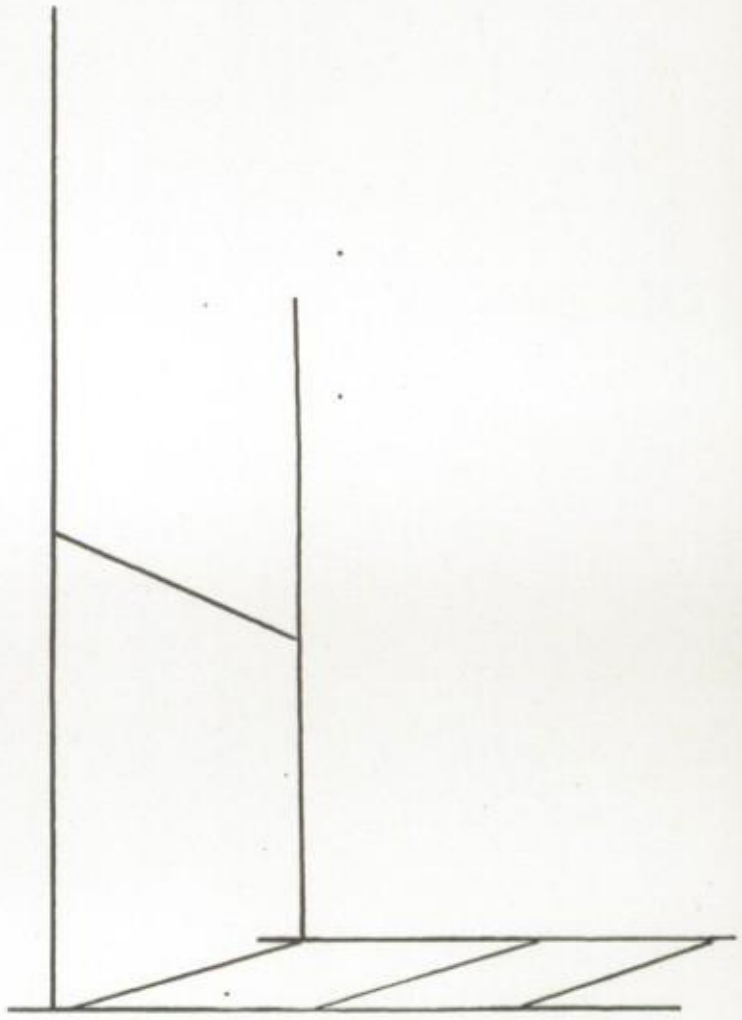
Athletics 1959-60 were the most successful that the Knights in their five-year history had ever experienced. After the football team had completed its best season, the State Champion swimmers and the State's second-ranking basketball team took over. They set the pace for record seasons, which included a third-place finish in the State by the gymnastics team.

Although the spring sports showed more promise than in any other year, the weather hampered all squads and postponed some of their early season meets and games.





Spirited Knights, Good Coaching, Faithful Practice



With a touchdown pass in his hands, Jim Levy (34) sprints toward the side lines to evade the last Norfolk defender during LSE upset.

Won Football Fame And Recognition For LSE in '59.

LSE quarterback Jeff Roberts (14) strains to pick up an extra yard, as Dennie Puelz (33) hustles up to receive the possible pitchout.

Football 1959 at Lincoln Southeast was the most successful season in the school's short history. The Knights ended the season with a 6-3 record which betters the previous high of 5-4 set in the 1958 season.

Jim Levy and Keith Sieck led the Knight team and both received All-City and honorable mention All-State honors. Dennie Puelz was also on the Lincoln Star All-City team. Levy was a standout on both offense and defense, while Puelz sparked the defensive team. Sieck, a big tackle, also played fullback and defensive linebacker.

Mickey Dragoo, Gary Foster, Pat Gillispie, Joe Pease and John Peterson were linemen who received All-City honorable mention, while Don Brunk and Jeff Roberts were the Southeast backs receiving this honor.

Combining Strength, Lightning Speed And Long Passes,

LSE—13 Northeast—0

Superior spirit and early season conditioning of the Knights were evident in their first game victory over Northeast, September 11, at the Public Schools' Oval.

Early in the second quarter, the Knights overcame their jitters and began to jell. Jim Levy made Southeast's first touchdown on a two-yard plunge. Levy scored his second touchdown of the game in the third quarter on a 23-yard pass from Jeff Roberts.

"Do we switch?" wonder Coaches Gillaspie and Miller watching the Fremont game.

LSE—6 Westside—12

After displaying terrific spirit in the first game, the Knights weren't up for their trip to Omaha Westside, September 18.

Having been held scoreless in the first quarter, Southeast got a good start in the second quarter, scoring on a 30-yard punt return by Jim Levy. Westside scored twice before the half, however, to take a 12-6 lead which they never relinquished.

LSE—19 Hastings—13

Southeast went on the road again, September 25, this time traveling to Hastings and bringing home their second victory.

In the second quarter the Knights scored on a 43-yard run by Jeff Roberts and a 50-yard Jim Levy to Dennie Puelz pass.

Don Brunk intercepted a pass and ran 30 yards for Southeast's final touchdown.

LSE—19 Fremont—0

Mud and rain slowed the Southeast attack, October 2, at Fremont where the Knights beat the Tigers for their third win.

Starting slowly, the Knights came on to score in the second and third quarters on runs of 65 and 32 yards by Jim Levy.

Keith Sieck, tackle turned fullback, made the last touchdown on a five-yard run.

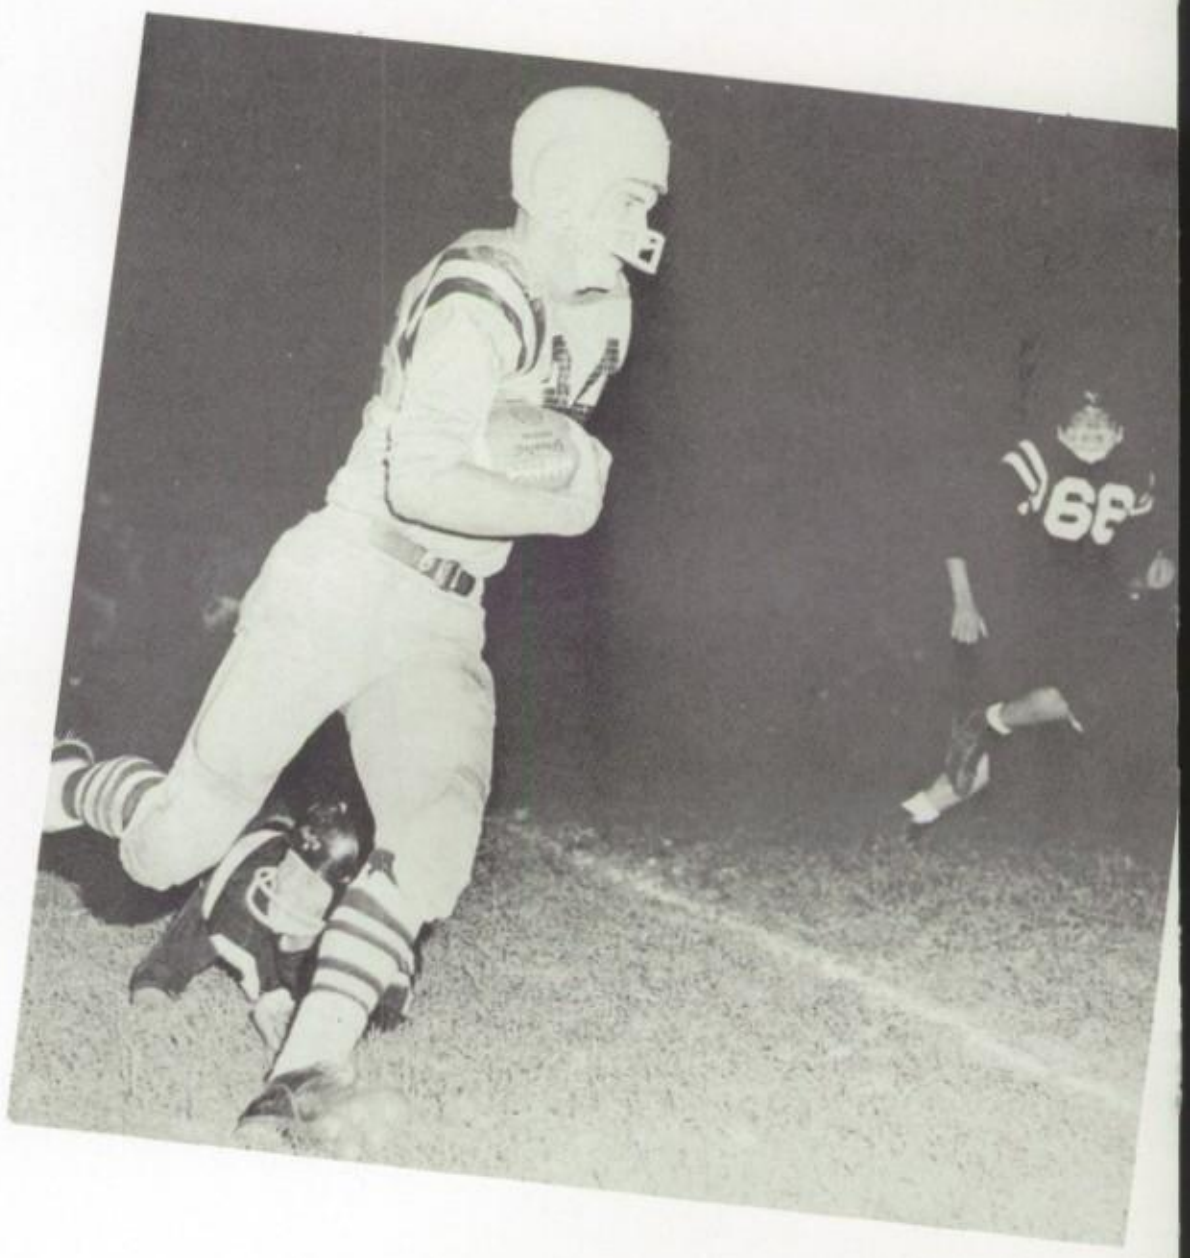
LSE—26 Norfolk—6

After being on the road for three weeks, the Knights finally came home, October 10, and defeated Norfolk, a team that had won four games without a loss.

First-half scores came on passes by Jeff Roberts, the first, 39 yards to Jim Levy, and the second, 46 yards to Dennie Puelz.

Two third-quarter touchdowns put the game away. Levy scored on a 41-yard pass and Roberts scored on a 3-yard run.



Breaking away from a would-be tackler, left halfback Jim Levy (34) checks downfield for a helping block during the Northeast battle.

With 6 Wins, 3 Losses.

LSE—6 Lincoln High—12

With two consecutive wins behind them, Southeast, a spirited team, went into the game with Lincoln High, October 16.

In the second quarter, the Knights fought from behind and tied the game on Dennie Puelz's diving catch of Jeff Roberts' pass. Southeast threatened in the second half, but couldn't find a scoring combination.

LSE—0 Beatrice—20

Southeast suffered a letdown, October 23, and lost the Homecoming game to Beatrice at the Lincoln Public Schools' Oval.

Although Jim Levy and Dennie Puelz broke away for several long gains, Southeast couldn't score. Fumbles and pass interceptions plagued the Knights as they couldn't penetrate past Beatrice's six-yard line.

LSE—7 Fairbury—0

Southeast traveled to Fairbury, October 30, and despite poor spirit and cold weather, came back with its fifth win.

Bob Campbell scored the only touchdown of the game on a 10-yard run in the second quarter. From then on it was up to the stout Knight defense as they had to stop Fairbury twice on the goal line.

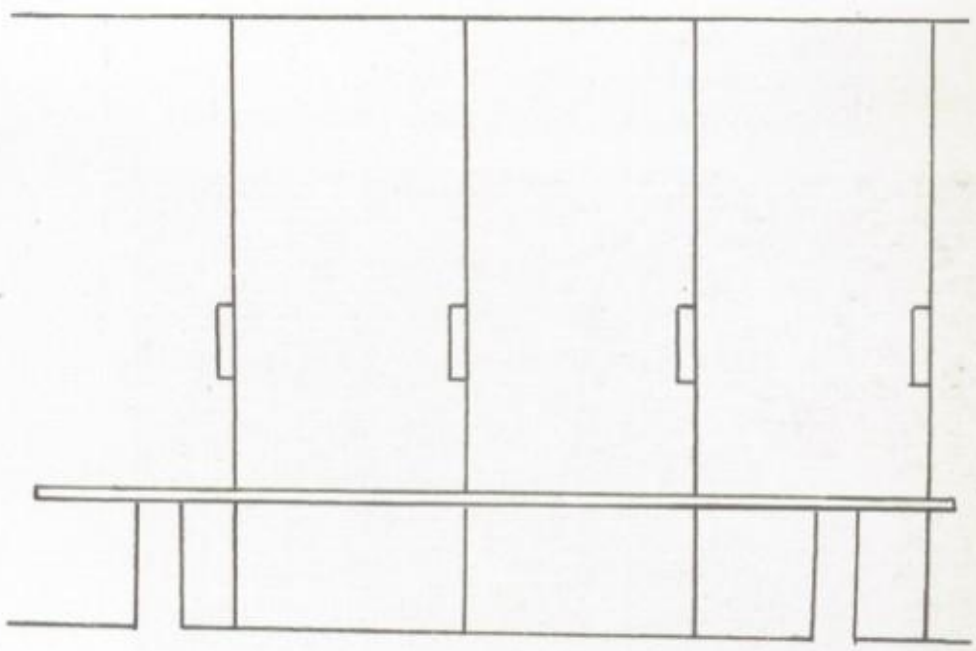
Came When Several Deserving Knights

LSE—20 Pius X—19

Below freezing temperatures and snow didn't hamper the Knights much, November 13, at Pius X as they won their sixth game.

Jeff Roberts scored the first touchdown on a one-yard sneak. After Pius tied the game, Jim Levy went over right tackle for a 30-yard touchdown to regain the lead.

In the second half, Roberts scored on an eight-yard run and Levy kicked his second extra point of the night to win the game.



"Don't let him get away!" think Dennie Puelz and John Peterson as they race to help Don Brunk in the Lincoln High contest.

As Coach Bill Miller studies the action on the field, the tough defensive unit watches LSE's fast offensive unit race to an upset over highly-rated Norfolk.

Reserve football at Lincoln Southeast was very successful. Under the coaching of Charles Gordon, the Junior Knights won five while losing only to Waverly's Varsity.

Leading the team to its third straight City Reserve Championship were backs Don Everett, quarterback, who led the team in scoring, and halfback Rick Allgood, who was the leading ground gainer. Greg Hedburg, Henry Moeller and Craig Dodge anchored the line on both offense and defense.

Coach Bob Lohrberg's sophomores had a 2-3 record with wins over Northeast and Pius X. Season's leaders were Bill Mowbray, John Egers, Mike Casey and Dave Gake.

Basketball 1960 at Southeast was the best season in the school's history. Finishing the year with a 12-4 record, which bettered last year's 9-7 count, the Knights also broke other school and individual records.

Team records were set in scoring and defense in single games, while Keith Sieck broke individual single game and season scoring and rebounding records.

High spots in the season were two wins over Northeast, a victory over Boys Town and Southeast's first win over Lincoln High.

Dennie Puelz, team leader, and Sieck were named to the All-City team and Jack Cramer received honorable mention.

Enthusiasm and tension are shown by the Knight bench in tourney action.

Reserves Successful; Sophs Promising.

Southeast's reserves once again had a successful season, compiling a 14-2 record.

Although the team had several outstanding sophomores, it was paced by juniors returning from last year's team. Gary Thomas and Mike Willits were leading scorers, while Dick Owen led the rebounders.

Sophomore basketball, although it had only a 2-8 record, showed promise with Kile Johnson and Harry Leth, the team leaders.

Knights Come of Age—

Runners-up in State Basketball;

In their first try in a State Tournament, the Knights, under the guiding hand of Coach Bob Good, took the runner-up spot in the Class A Basketball Tournament.

Winning over Nebraska City and Northeast in the District finals, Southeast, for the first time, moved into the State.

Led by Dennie Puelz and Keith Sieck, the Knights took victories over Boys Town and Omaha Tech and gave Omaha South a real battle before falling, 53-47, in the finals.

Puelz was named to the Omaha World Herald All-State team and Journal-Star selected Sieck. Jack Cramer received honorable mention in the Journal-Star.

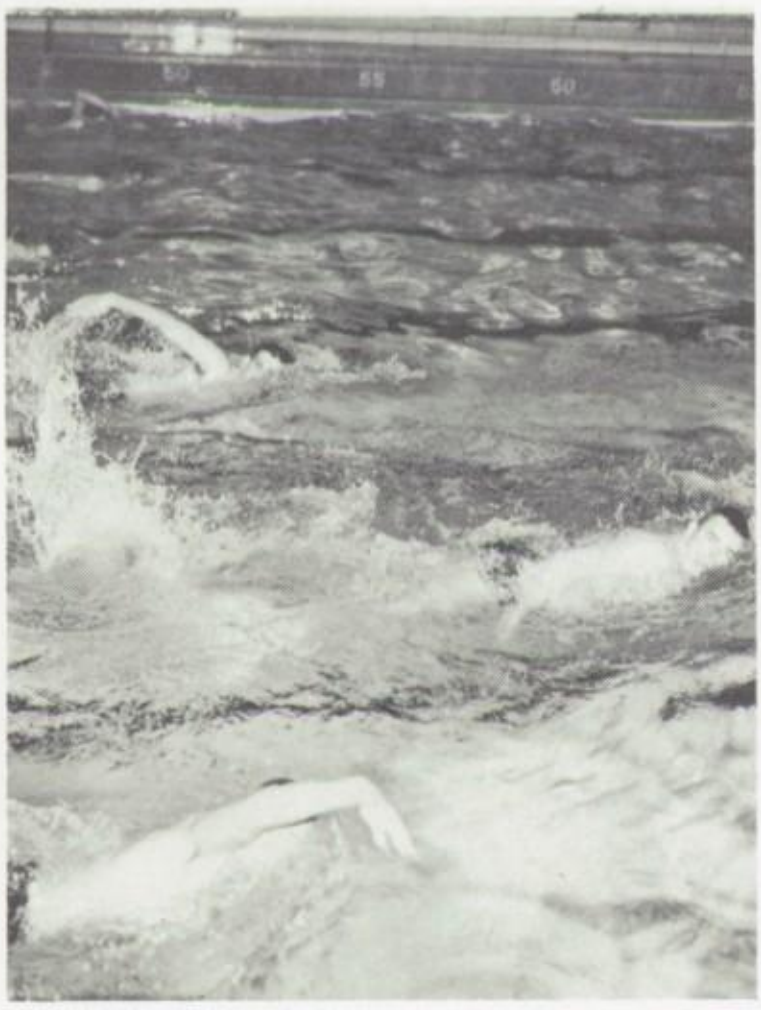
Southeast's heralded Knights are welcomed back onto the playing floor for start of the State finals.

"These are the Knights and we couldn't be prouder," was SE's feeling after the State.

Southeast's school spirit is shown by members of "S" Club and Pep Club during the State Tournament finals.

State Swimming Champions.

Southeast's hard-working swimmers take a few final practice laps before the State finals.



Bill Wright (center) springs off the starting block toward the first of his two State runner-up titles.

Sopping wet, but quite happy, is Coach John Reta as he gladly accepts the State Swimming Trophy.

Southeast's swimming team, under Coach John Reta, topped off its second consecutive undefeated season by taking the State title for the second straight year.

Although the Knights didn't have any individual State champions, the team depth produced a wide margin over the second place team. Bill Wright, who took second in both the 50-yard and 100-yard freestyle events, and Charles Flansburg, who placed second in the 100-yard breaststroke, headed the well-balanced Southeast scoring attack.

Swimmers End Year with 9-0 Record

Finishing this year with a 9-0 record, Southeast's swimmers have put together a string of twenty-one straight dual meet victories over the last three seasons.

Besides their success in dual meets, the Knights also won the Mid-East title for the third straight year and the City Championship for the second year in a row. Bill Wright was a double winner in both meets and sophomore Tom Nickerson was a two-event winner in the Lincoln City Championships.

Charles Flansburg, breaststroke; Dave Frank, backstroke; Chuck Levy, diving; Nickerson, Dave Roberts and Wright, freestyle were named to the All-City team.

State contender Charles Flansburg surges past his nearest opponent to another win.

Freestyler Dave Roberts strokes toward a win in the 200-yard individual medley.

A slight lead is held by Dennis Merry in an exciting fourth lap of the butterfly.

Sophomore standout Dave Frank completes a fast third lap in the individual medley.

All-City selection Bob Bresette ascends the rope with ease to capture a Mid-East title.

Southeast's gymnasts followed the pattern of all Knight teams this year and posted their best season yet, a 7-1 record.

Led by seniors Bob Bresette and Larry McCoy and junior Jim Howard, the Knights took second in the Mid-East and third in the State. They also defeated Lincoln High in a dual meet for the first time in Southeast's short history. Bresette and Howard earned Lincoln Journal-Star All-City berths.

Eight Wrestlers Qualify For 1960 State Meet

Straining hard to work into an advantageous position against a Boys Town opponent is Rick Allgood, an All-City selection.

Knight John Perry grimaces while he attempts to down his opponent.

Although the Knights finished the season with a 1-7 record, they made the most successful showing of any Southeast wrestling team in the District and State Meets.

Eight of the twelve-man team qualified for the State Meet as the Knights gained a third place tie in the District. Rick Allgood, Dave London and Pat Gillispie were District Champions while John McIntyre and Ken Fox were second. Gillispie also took third in the State. Fox, London, McIntyre and Scott Rodwell won All-City honors.

Golfers Progress

Southeast's golf was no different from other spring sports, in that the team was forced to lay off for two weeks because of bad weather. They opened the season April 8 against Lincoln High and Omaha Westside after only a few days of work outside.

Lack of experienced players hurt the Knights. Bill Wright, letterman, and Gary Amerman were the only team members returning from last year. The Knight golf team played a schedule of eight meets, including the City, Mid-East and State.

Tennis Team Successful.

Bad weather didn't hurt the tennis team because they could work in the boys' gym. While inside the team worked on form, conditioning and fundamentals.

Team balance and depth were the strong points of the Knights. There were at least six evenly-matched players on the squad as they opened their eleven scheduled meets on April 6 against Lincoln High.

Roger Refshauge, junior, and Rich Woods, senior, were the only experienced players, and along with sophomore Kile Johnson were the basis for the team.

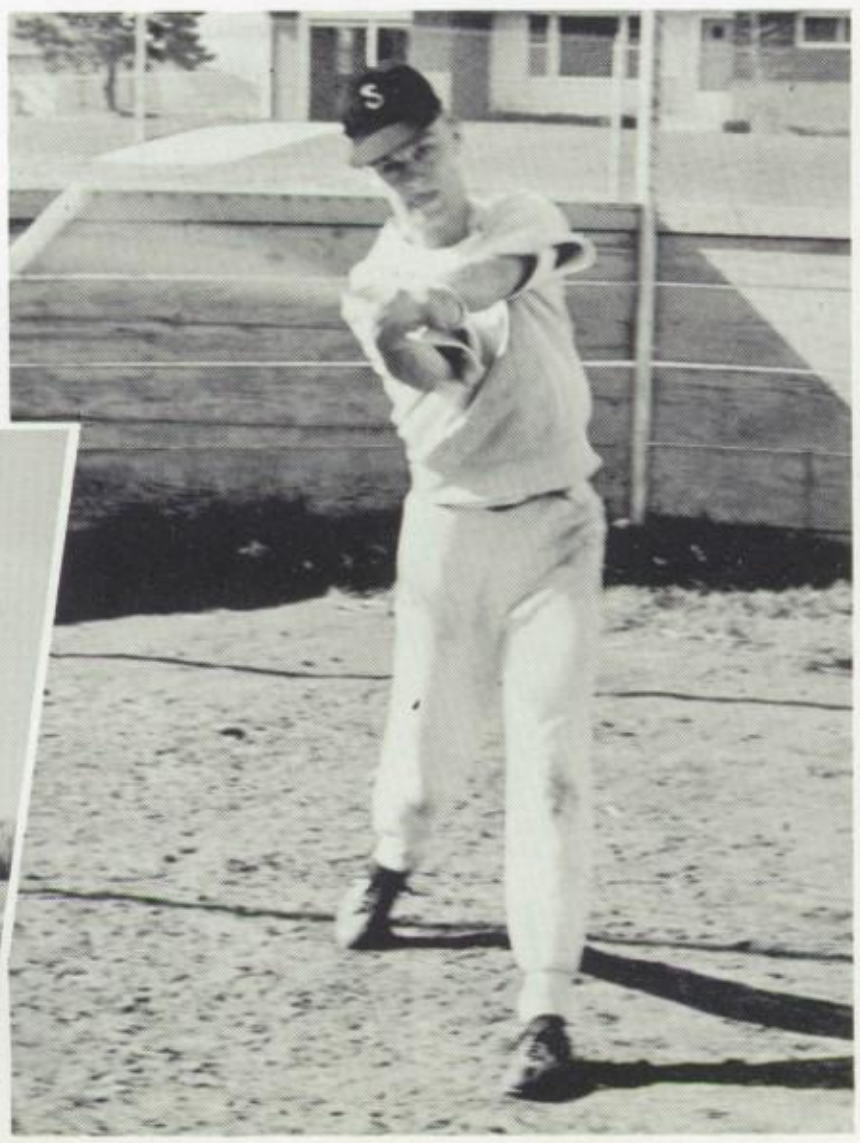
Southeast's baseball team, looking for its second State Championship, was forced to practice in the gym. The best weather for spring sports and the baseball staff had, as yet, not come in early April. The Knights opened a ten-game season on April 6.

Owen Becker, Bill Haas, Dennie Puelz and Jeff Roberts were returning infielders; Don Brunk and Wayne Kubert were returning outfielders. Jim Amerman and Keith Sieck were the returning pitchers.

Knight pitchers and catchers, G. Thomas, J. Hermanson, K. Fox, K. Sieck, J. Amerman and D. Owen, receive advice from Coach Gordon on how to pitch.

Jeff Roberts, slugging shortstop, takes a sharp cut at a high outside pitch in an early season workout.

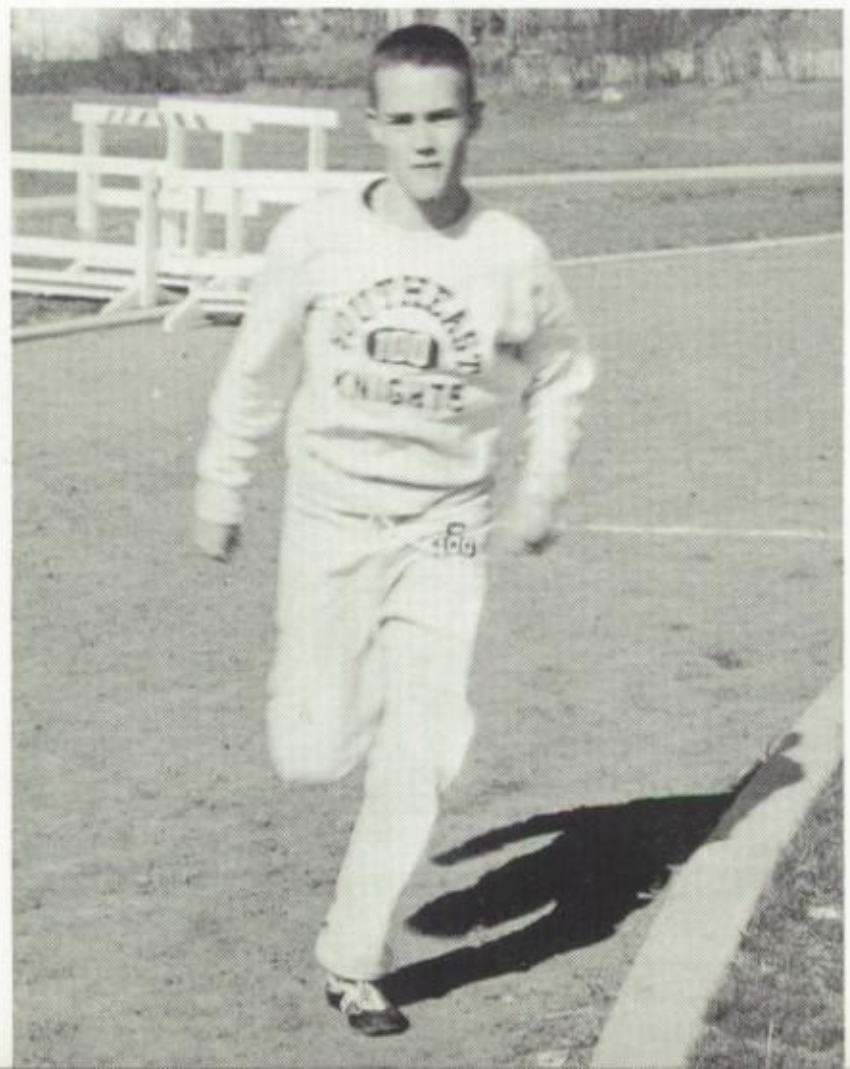


Ace middle distance man Bob Campbell receives the baton and begins his lap of the mile relay.

Junior Jack Cramer, high jump runner-up in last year's State Meet, tops the bar at 5′10″ during Southeast's first contest of the season.

Knight Tracksters Set New Records;

Southeast's standout distance man, Jack Clair, jogs slowly around the track as he loosens up for a meet.



Hard-Working Seniors Led to SE's Advance.

Hampered by bad weather early in the year, the track team had only one week of practice before the opening meet. The Knights' nine-meet schedule included the Mid-East, District, City and State meets. They opened against Columbus and Lincoln High on the Nebraska indoor track.

Bob Campbell and Jack Clair, distance men; Jack Cramer, high jumper; and Jim Levy, sprinter, were the standouts returning from last year's team. Gary Foster and Mike Willits were the promising juniors.

Within Their Community

Southeast benefited from being situated in a large, educational community. This year seniors were able to take college credit courses second semester at the University of Nebraska. While clubs served the community by collecting money for worth-while causes, students held part-time jobs. Sports events and other school programs provided entertainment for the public.

As Southeast and its community combined their individual resources to build each other, their mutual goal was to mold tomorrow's leaders into valuable citizens.

We're through and our time is our own, but this past year spent producing the 1960 SHIELD has been more fun and more rewarding than any other year ever could be.

Each of us could make a list of people to thank, for behind every picture there were always co-operative subjects. Special thanks should be directed to the administration and faculty for their co-operation.

Understanding and striving to please us were Jacob North Printing Company and Edholm and Blomgren Photographers.

How can I ever express my thanks to my entire staff? We all are especially proud of the art work of Dave London who designed the '60 covers and all the sketches. Our layouts, with their extremely slender pictures, were all planned by Charlette Suder, managing editor. Tosh Utsumi, chief photographer, worked many over-time hours taking the full-page pictures; his staff hardly had a minute of its own around deadline times. Of course, the business staff, under the leadership of Charles Barthell, should be commended for its outstanding business management and advertising section.

My staff and I could never begin to put into words our gratitude to Miss Hattie Steinberg, our adviser. When times were rough she pulled us through; but even more important Miss Steinberg always shared our excitement and expectations.

Reluctantly the '60 SHIELD staff turns the job over to the 1961 staff, who have a lot to look forward to. Good Luck.

Leroy,
I think
I've known you forever and a day
but you're cuter
every year — boy!
